

Agreement on the mutual recognition of CME certificates between the Israeli Medical Association and the German Medical Association

Dresden, 23 June 2022

Continuing medical education, the process through which professionally active physicians continuously update and expand their medical knowledge and skills while enhancing professional competence, is an integral part of the medical profession and a physician's professional duties.

The Israeli Medical Association and the German Medical Association seek to underscore this key component of medical professionalism by enabling the mutual recognition of continuing education successfully completed in Israel and Germany.

Having established the equivalence of our systems of certification for continuing education activities, we recommend that the competent authorities in our respective countries, the Israeli Medical Association Scientific Council and the German State Chambers of Physicians, allow the mutual recognition of certificates of participation without further detailed assessment.
